Agricultural Produce and Livestock Marketing (Promotion & Facilitation) Act, 2017
The ________State /UT
Agricultural Produce and Livestock Marketing
(Promotion & Facilitation) Act, 2017

Government of India
Ministry of Agriculture and Farmers Welfare
Department of Agriculture, Cooperation & Farmers Welfare
Economic history of the world demonstrates, that a nation’s economy can mature and realize its potential only when its primary sector, namely, agriculture is taken care of. India cannot prove an exception. As our country aims at and races towards becoming one of the largest economies of the world, it has to ensure that its agriculture sector taps its full potential of growth and development. This is all the more important when the Government is aiming to ensure social equitability and welfare of all its people. The farming community which even now accounts for 48 per cent of the nation’s population and depends on agriculture and allied activities for employment and income needs priority attention.

2. Over the last seven decades since Independence, the agriculture sector was primarily mandated to achieve food security for the growing population. This purpose has been well served. However, this does not tell the full story. The agriculture scenario of the country, notwithstanding its impressive credentials, has come to be troubled by agrarian crisis as manifest from a high of 22.50 per cent of farmers living below poverty line and episodic cases of farmers’ suicides. Concerned about this, besides its intention to achieve farmers’ welfare, the Government has committed itself to doubling the farmers’ income as India celebrates its 75th Independence in the year 2022.

3. An analysis of the agricultural growth trends so far, brings out that the emphasis has largely been on the production segment, while the post-production has at best been on the periphery of policy formulation and scheme/programme roll out. In that sense, India has addressed only half the agriculture sector enterprise so far. The returns that the farmer-producer obtains on his produce impacts his income and influences his ability to invest in agriculture, as also his standard of living. The post-production segment of the agriculture enterprise encompasses a cafeteria of interventions including farm harvesting practices; storage and transportation (both dry and cold); processing and marketing. While marketing connects the producer and the consumer, other interventions including processing are essential to add value to the raw product and increase the food mile, so that the producer is able to benefit from maximum value. However, marketing efficiency is of equal importance if the farmer is to garner optimal share in the consumer’s rupee. Judged against this, the status and outcome of agricultural marketing in India leave much to be desired. An examination of the structure, conduct and performance of agriculture marketing system in the country throws up a number of inefficiencies. It is also an irony, that all segments of agricultural sector, particularly, the perishable commodities including fruits, vegetables, flowers, meat, fish as also livestock have not received an appropriate level of attention and treatment.

4. The reforms in agricultural marketing sector were ushered in with adoption of Agriculture Produce Marketing (Regulation) Act, popularly known as APMC Act by various States and Union Territories in 1960s and 1970s. While they brought in a great improvement from the preceding village trader-dominated exploitative system, they failed to serve the full objective of price discovery in a fair and transparent manner. Unfortunately, the market functionaries have over a period of time learnt to circumvent the basic objective of marketing regulation by cartelizing. More importantly, the APMCs have caused fragmentation of the markets thereby inducing inefficiency over space and time.

5. The beginnings of next generation market reforms in the country were made by sharing a Model APMC Act by the then Department of Agriculture & Cooperation with all the States and UTs in 2003 and following it up with sharing of Model APMC Rules in the year 2007. A review by the Department of Agriculture, Cooperation and Farmers’ Welfare and also the NITI Aayog in the year 2016 brought to surface, glaring shortcomings in adoption of the Model Act across the country. Even in case of those, where the Model Act was used to effect necessary amendments to their Acts the reforms seemed patchy, sporadic and cosmetic. It became obvious, that the pace and quality of reforms had fallen much short of the need of the hour to effect the full complement of Reforms that had bypassed the agriculture sector. Marketing reforms emerged as the core of such intended reform basket, which hold definite potential of becoming a game changer.

6. It was against this background, that Shri Radha Mohan Singh, Hon’ble Union Minister of Agriculture & Farmers’ Welfare constituted a Committee on 12.8.2016 under the chairmanship of the undersigned to draft a Model Act that would look at marketing in a more holistic manner and suggest a legal template. The committee was referenced to examine and address the entire gamut of post-production activities and recommended a Model Act that can push farm enterprise towards realizing the vision of the Hon’ble Prime Minister to double the income of farmers. The Committee benefited from professional expertise that came from Dr. Ramesh Chand, Member NITI Aayog, a well recognized Agriculture Economist of the country; as also from enviable understanding and vast experience of Dr. S.K. Pattanayak, Secretary, DAC&FW at both policy formulation and field levels in the agricultural domain. The comments and observations from various Government of India Ministries/Departments, State and UT Governments, informed and concerned citizenry have been extremely constructive and helpful in visualizing a big picture and creating a more relevant template, capable of meeting current and emerging challenges.

7. The Committee went through large number of deliberations and debates where a mass of data, information and observations and inputs were examined and regurgitated. The Committee veered around a consensus, that it is time to move away from pure regulation and development approach to promotion and facilitation-centric platform. The idea behind this consensus was to create a conducive environment for competition, by enabling multiple channels of marketing without letting any one including Government led APMCs to hold sway as a monopoly. With this the farmer-producer will come to be unchained to carry his produce to any market and sell to whoever offers him a better price. This then culminated in enabling a level playing field to every one wanting to play a role in agriculture marketing and serve the farmer-producer, while simultaneously improving upon the ratio of geography served by each market. This currently stands at 1 per 485 sq.kms adding to avoidable transportation cost incurred by the farmer. Further, the farmer-producer needed to be allowed to play an active role in market management and, therefore the Committee was keen to make democratically elected bodies to hold reigns of management and provisions have been made accordingly.

8. Following the logic supra, the new Model Act aims at building a level playing field for both public sector and private sector players to enter into the domain of agriculture marketing and build appropriate market structure; and provide a framework that catalyses fair conduct and performance of marketing to the advantage of farmers in particular and consumers in general. In the light of the Government’s desire to enhance farmers’ income, it was natural that the Model Act addressed not just marketing of field crops, but multiple other commodities including fruits, vegetables, flowers, spices, medicinal plants, livestock, poultry, fisheries etc. A farmer’s income particularly in the context of the small and marginal farmer predominant landholding structure is multi-sourced. This in sequel leaves competitive marketing system as the only viable option, since these farmers are appropriately advised to practise integrated farming. Thus, the new Model Act has been titled as “The----State/UT Agricultural Produce and Livestock Marketing (Promotion & Facilitation) Act, 2017”. It is intended to introduce creative disruption in the current agricultural market environment of the country.

9. On behalf of the Committee, it is my privilege to thank Shri Radha Mohan Singh, Hon’ble Minister of Agriculture & Farmers’ Welfare, Shri Parshotam Rupala, Hon’ble MOS of Agriculture & Farmers’ Welfare, Prof. Ramesh Chand, Member, NITI Aayog, Dr. S.K. Pattanayak, Secretary, DAC&FW for providing us this opportunity. I would also like to thank various Central Ministries and Departments, State and UT Governments and the informed citizens who responded by way of their constructive critique & comments and valuable suggestions.

10. I also place on record the sincerity and proactive involvement that all the members of the Committee brought to bear upon this task. They include Shri Sumanta Chaudhuri, MD, SFAC; Shri Shakil Ahammed, Joint Secretary (MIDH), DAC&FW; and Principal Secretaries/Secretaries of Government of Telangana, Rajasthan, Uttar Pradesh & Bihar. The process of drafting was more directly shouldered by Shri K.S. Srinivas, Joint Secretary, Dr. Alka Bhargava, Joint Secretary, Dr. S.K. Singh, Dy. Agriculture Marketing Adviser and Shri Arun Kumar, Director who as members of the Marketing Division of the Department took up the assignment as a professional challenge.

11. It is hoped, that all the States and Union Territories would embark upon the process of legislating their respective Acts based on the Model Act as early as possible. They would be free to adopt needed changes to suit the local variations, while all the time ensuring that the spirit of competition is encouraged and the principle of ‘Farmer First’ is kept in mind.

THE MODEL ACT

THE ------STATE/ UNION TERRITORY AGRICULTURAL PRODUCE AND LIVESTOCK MARKETING (PROMOTION & FACILITATION ) ACT, 2017

An

to provide for geographically restriction-free trade transaction of agricultural produce including livestock across the State/Union Territory (UT) and country; to give freedom to the agriculturists to sell their produce across time and space; to enhance transparency in trade operations and price settlement mechanism through adoption of electronic and other innovative form of technology; to promote emergence of multiple channels for competitive marketing, agri-processing and agricultural export; to encourage investments in development of markets and marketing infrastructure in the State/UT of ________________; and whereas it is expedient to put in place facilitative regulation, professional management and conducive policy framework therefor and purposes connected therewith and to lay down procedures and systems thereto.

Be it enacted by the _________________ State Legislature in the sixty eight year of the Republic of India as follows :

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS - Agriculture like any other enterprise can sustain, only when it can generate net positive returns to the producer. A market is a place, where a produce is transacted and price per unit is determined, resulting in the total value that a farmer-producer fetches. Since value returns impinge upon a farmer’s income, agricultural markets and marketing efficiency become critical. In the light of the Government’s vision to double farmers’ income by 2022, it entails an urgent need to revisit the existing market structure of the country and bring in a more competitive marketing environment. This combined with improved levels of productivity and reduced cost of cultivation/production can drive agricultural growth, farmers’ welfare, productive employment and economic prosperity in rural areas of the country. Organized wholesale marketing in the country is promoted through a network of regulated markets set up under the provisions of States’ Agricultural Produce Marketing (Regulation) Acts. These market structures aimed at regulation and attainment of transparency in transactions, with a view to transferring remunerative prices to the farmer-producer. Over time, however, these markets have largely been rendered restrictive and monopolistic, falling well below the intended objectives. Further, the existing regulatory framework does not support free flow of agricultural produce; and direct interface of farmers with the processors /exporters/ bulk buyers / end users, and in sequel has let in large number of intermediaries who may or may not be adding any value along the value chain. This is neither advantageous to the farmers nor serves well the interests of the consumers. The profile of India’s farm produce is changing. It is getting more cosmopolitan with higher levels of outputs in the domain of horticulture, dairying, poultry and fisheries, besides of course increasing quanta of cereals, pulses and oilseeds. Since the onset of economic liberalization of the country in 1991, that nation has also been experiencing visible changes in its transport and communication infrastructure besides penetration of internet and smart phones in the rural areas and greater technology-friendliness amongst the youths, who dominate the demography. With increasing purchasing power, mobility and changes in tastes and preferences, the consumers abetted by greater information and awareness are beginning to demand quality and differentiated products at rational price. The restrictive and monopoly-centric agricultural market structure as exists in the country today is not capable of permitting the producers to harvest the economic advantages of place, time and form value of their agricultural commodity.

2. These constraints can be overcome by replacing the current market structure and its regulatory framework by a more liberal and progressive law that allows free competition, promotes transparency, facilitates flow of commodities across space and time and encourages operation of multiple marketing channels by market players. What is needed is a barrier-free unified agricultural market for the country. The structure of Indian agriculture is changing and the sector is diversifying around cereals, pulses, oilseeds, commercial crops like cotton, horticultural crops, livestock, fisheries, poultry etc. It is, therefore, appropriate that a re-drafted and comprehensive Act is adopted, that is promotional and facilitative in unifying the fragmented markets. What also needs to be appreciated is, that piecemeal amendments leading to patchy improvements will not serve the purpose of a growing Indian economy. The nation’s economy is more integrated with the global economy, than any time before. The provisions of the Model APMC Act, 2003 and Rules 2007, therefore, need a comprehensive overhaul.

3. While the Model Act, 2003 and Rules, 2007 have contributed substantively over the last 14 years in opening the shut doors to alternative marketing channels, many shortcomings were visible, as the Union Government set out to operationalize electronic National Agricultural Market (e-NAM) in 2016. The Ministry’s constant interaction with the States and UTs and a review with them at the NITI Aayog level recognized the need for a Model Act, that can serve as a template to enact new legislation and engender comprehensive market reforms in the agriculture sector. Following this, the Department of Agriculture, Cooperation & Farmers’ Welfare in the Ministry of Agriculture & Farmers’ Welfare constituted a Committee on Marketing Reforms on 12.08.2016 under the Chairmanship of Dr. Ashok Dalwai, Addl. Secretary in the Department.

4. In view of the above, the Committee has found it appropriate to formulate “The----State/ Union Territory Agricultural Produce and Livestock Marketing (Promotion & Facilitation) Act, 2017” as a Model APLM Act encompassing a host of reforms that addresses the diverse and complex segments of a large sector like Agriculture. If States adopt this Model, it has definite potential of becoming a game changer in agricultural marketing scene. The salient features of the Model APLM Act, 2017 are:

(i) Abolition of fragmentation of market within the State/UT by removing the concept of notified market area in so far as enforcement of regulation by Agricultural Produce and Livestock Market Committee (APLMC) is concerned (State/UT level single market).

(ii) Full democratization of Market Committee and State/UT Marketing Board.

(iii) Disintermediation of food supply chain by integration of farmers with processors, exporters, bulk retailers and consumers.

(iv) Clear demarcation of the powers and functions between Director of Agricultural Marketing and Managing Director of State/UT Agricultural Marketing Board with the objective that the former will have to largely carry out regulatory functions, while the latter will be mandated with developmental responsibilities under the Act.

(v) Creation of a conducive environment for setting up and operating private wholesale market yards and farmer consumer market yards, so as to enhance competition among different markets and market players for the farmer’s produce, to the advantage of the latter.

(vi) Promotion of direct interface between farmers and processors/ exporters/ bulk-buyers/ end users so as to reduce the price spread bringing advantage to both the producers & the consumers.

(vii) Enabling declaration of warehouses/ silos/ cold storages and other structures/ space as market sub–yard to provide better market access/ linkages to the farmers.

(viii) Giving freedom to the agriculturalists to sell their produce to the buyers and at the place & time of their choice, to whom so ever and wherever they get better prices.

(ix) Promotion of e-trading to enhance transparency in trade operations and integration of markets across geographies.

(x) Provisions for single point levy of market fee across the State and unified single trading licence to realise cost-effective transactions.

(xi) Promotion of national market for agriculture produce and livestock through provisioning of inter- state trading licence, grading and standardization and quality certification.

(xii) Rationalization of market fee & commission charges.

(xiii) Provision for Special Commodity Market Yard(s) and Market yard(s) of National Importance (MNI).

(xiv) Providing a level playing field to the licensees of private market yard, private market sub-yard, electronic trading and direct marketing vis-à-vis the APLMCs and removing the conflict of interest that the latter are likely to practise, if both development and regulatory functions are centered in the same authority.
