In today’s world, with a lifestyle that requires one’s mind to be sharp like a knife, we tend to forget to treat our body like a temple. So this year, I have decided to dedicate myself to a cleaner, safer and healthier approach towards life.

At present food system is out of balance with 815 million people being hungry and every 3rd person is malnutritional in the world. Sustainable agriculture is to feed the growing population, employ people and improve quality of life for extremely poor people. I would like to compare sustainability with theory of 3Ps PEOPLE, PLANET, PROFIT.

People— Food quality, safety and rural economic conditions.

Planet— Environment friendly.

Profit— Economic standards of the farmer.

Agriculture is to feed the growing population, employ people and improve quality of life for extremely poor people.

Farming in India is being practiced since ages. In past, farmers had to give large percentage of produce in the name of tax. The problem lies with the market. Middlemen and brokers are ruling the farm markets. The farmer do not reach break even point because of low price they get along with many worthless miscellaneous charges. Solutions are giving input subsidies as direct benefit to farmers. Reducing farm prices and consumer price gap. Giving interest free loans and giving local farmers a place in the budget discussions and planning.

Cricket being considered as the religion of our nation acts as a bridge that connects all the diversified people of our nation. Managers Cricket League (MCL) was started by PGDM Batch 2017-19 and this being the 3rd edition was also organized with the same motto where the students of both batches come together, intermingle with each other and get to know the diversity of our nation through the students who have come from every corner of the nation.

8 teams were formed where 6 were of boys and 2 were of girls. The players of the teams were selected through the virtual bidding process, the inspiration of which was taken from IPL. The owners of the teams were allocated a fixed fund and this is where the managerial skills of the owners come into play as they had to create their team from that fixed fund only. The final was won by team “EAGLES”. The event was a success as the main aim of the event, which was increasing the bond between juniors and seniors was achieved.

NIAM Premier League Season XII

NIAM Premier League started in the year 2008 by PGDM(ABM) Batch 2007-09 has become the legacy of NIAM since then. The uniqueness of NPL is that not only the current batches take part in it but also the Alumni who comes from different parts of the nation just for this event. The nostalgia of this event is what drives Alumni from around the nation to meet at once particular place and re-live those moments. Unlike MCL, in NPL the teams are not mixed, where juniors and seniors make their separate teams.

This is done to promote the competitive nature of the students. This year NPL was hosted from 6th-9th March 2019. 10 teams were formed where 7 were of boys and 3 were of girls. Team “Thunder squad” won the final among girls and team “NIAM ROYALS” won the final among boys. At the end a “FLASH MOB” dance was organised by the students of PGDM (ABM) Batch 2019-21. The closing ceremony of NPL ended with the distribution of trophies to the winners.
Students of C.C.S NIAM PGDM (ABM) celebrated women’s day on 8th March, 2020 by honouring the womanhood of its IVth class female workers. Menstrual hygiene management (MHM) is an essential aspect of hygiene for women and adolescent girls between menarche and menopause. Females in low income settings have less awareness on hygienic practices and lack culturally appropriate materials. An awareness program organised by Newsletter committee focusing on the importance of safe menstruation along with distribution of sanitary napkins was conducted. In addition, recreational activities such as singing, games were also conducted. Through this CSR activity the experiences and perceptions of women and adolescent girls and their body’s biological needs and requirements on menstrual hygiene were explained.

Students also got to share their different culture and values.

Holi, the festival of colours is played with much joy and vigour all over the country. On 10th March 2020, all the Niamies gathered to smear colours at each other by bringing out the child in everyone. Also known as festival of love, on this day people get to unite together forgetting all resentments and all types of bad feeling towards each other. The vibrancy of colours is something that brings in a lot of positivity in our lives and Holi being the festival of colours is actually a day worth rejoicing.

Students of PGDM(ABM) celebrated this festival on 15th January, 2020 by flying kites. This tradition of flying kites followed all over the country, is supposed to give healthy exposure in the sun from early morning and wipe out sickness bought in by winter season. Students also got to share their different culture and values.

Makar Sankranti, a festival dedicated to Lord Sun marks the termination of the Winter. It also refers to a specific solar day in the Hindu calendar. It is celebrated with different names in different states. In NIAM students of PGDM(ABM) celebrated this festival on 15th January, 2020 by flying kites. This tradition of flying kites followed all over the country, is supposed to give healthy exposure in the sun from early morning and wipe out sickness bought in by winter season. Students also got to share their different culture and values.
Who once met as strangers, eventually helped each other through some of the most difficult times and shared the joyous times in life, gathered once again. With everlasting memories, the students of batch 2019-21 organised a grand farewell for their seniors on 23rd of March. A beautifully decorated auditorium, adorned with presence of both batches marked the beginning of the ceremony. The program started with the speech by the CR of the junior batch which was then continued by various art and dance performances. A musical dance drama depicting the entire journey of a NIAM student was beautifully represented. The program ended with a small token of gratitude and remembrance being gifted from juniors to seniors.
